GOD IS LOVE AND NOTHING ELSE

PRaise THE LORD!

KIRKSVILLE, June 21, 1887.

DEAR INTERIOR—I don't know that I have anything to write that will specially interest your readers. This is a typically quiet, small Kentucky village, meaning along the pike in an indefinite sort of way, and stopping when it comes to a halt, and then, with no back street to speak of, but well up to the front. The pike itself follows the track of the old "dirt road" which straggles along the ridge, where, in Indian times, the "fathers" "blazed" a path-way to the Kentucky river, with their axes, after the clearing of a primitive forest. When I saw the landscape around the village, I hadn't seen the Kirkville neighborhood at its best. Until I saw something still more attractive I am bound to say that for pictures, the view of the landscape, you get more pretty views here than anywhere else. The ground is the expense in a house and with that, the hillside hillside appearance of wheat-field, corn-land and pasture is more marked here than I remember to have seen elsewhere. This way, therefore, to my taste, the most exquisite of all landscape pictures. A dark green of the ranging mountains, beyond the river, of which "Big Hill" forms a peak, well-known to everything of the very beautiful way.

For the last, no common, and I know kinder hospitality than that with which we have been received. The comfortably situated rural hostelry in this section of "Old Madison" are luxurious in every way, and I came to entertaining guests and Blue Grass country in the most approved forms. We live on the "flat of the land" and, I hope, show an appreciation of such kindness by doing our level best to convert as many sinners and uplift as many souls as we can. Perhaps the atmosphere, broad and water here, may conduce to spirituality in some, but I trust it is not so with you. I always preach better when I am well fed, and I hold there is an intimate and logical connection between the two. Paupering the flesh and making a "queer" out of one's self, is not what I mean. But generous diet, taken in digestible quantities, is certainly promotive of true spirituality, if the gospel I preach is true. I feel that I am Timothy, whom he prepared for taking to a head turning region, and exhorted him earnestly to get like other people, in moderation, the best he could get, and no longer gush out, practically proclaiming that the service of the LORD makes man a dyspeptic. I am sure the sweet religion of Jesus puts flesh on the bones, as well as joy in the heart. So I believe in food, I preach. To make the LORD a "hard master" and an "austere man" is to do him a cruel wrong, and the devil will not fail to put it down in that "little account" he is so sedulously running up against all who give him a chance. To be put in full, what time he has a right to foreclose his out-thrust mortgages on his unhappy victims. I know good people, who are so really committing suicide, with out at all knowing it, as any of the brain-blowing, poison taking, rope-strangling, and we read about every day in the papers. God gives man a right to kill himself, or abuse himself, in this service for the simple reason that the odium of a thing is usually "lashed back" on the master, who appoints the work for his servants, and it is wholly responsible for their coming to harm in performing it. No one can find a case in the New Testament of ill-health in doing the LORD'S work, although there are a few mentions of sickness coming in, by the attacks of Satan, on the servants, for other reasons apart from the work they were engaged in. They all died violent deaths, gladly yielding up their lives for their dear Master, but no pallid dyspeptic, nor "sallow, liver-complained" "follower of the Lamb" is found among the men of whom "the world was not worthy."

Our dear Savior himself gladly gave His life a ransom; but no recorded case of sickness ever nullified that life, no perfect in obedience to every "law of health," which is, indeed, the law of God—"holiness and just and good." If you hear of any of the troupe getting sick, don't charge it to "high living," or "Bible Grass cooking," but to our own folly in not knowing or not caring when to leave off. High living in its proper definition of "the very best food one can eat," never hurt anybody; albeit many people and very excellent people, yearly "dig their graves with their teeth."

Write and I find ourselves in the unique position of guests to three bachelor brothers—merchants in the village, and general traders—the eldest of whom, Mr. Tom

Walker, invited us to make his house our home while in Kirkville. He is so fortunate—lacking other feminine ownership—so to have fallen into the hands of "Aunt Martha," about as first-class, gilt-edged, a cook as "Aunt Esther" at the "Grand Old Spring," and we are "in clover, knee deep." And these amiable, kind-hearted gentlemen, who do everything that anybody could do to make us happy; what can we do but love them for it and pray the good LORD that our sojourn under their roof may bring heavenly blessings into their lives. The girls are out at Mr. Joe Embury's, where they were asked to stay "till they found a better place." They are there yet; and I rather think if they stayed that long, they would be on Joe for life. They have a pet, whom they are daily spoiling, of course, "just the blindest baby," in the shape of little "Elizabeth," only child of Mr. and Mrs. Embury, whose pretty ways and cute sayings I feel myself preaching about every now and then, when I want an illustration. Is there anything lovelier, this side of heaven, than a "little child?" I think not, or the dear Savior would not have said what he did about them.

We landed here in the midst of wheat harvest and everybody nearly "run to death" with work in the reaping field; but our congregations have been wonderfully full, at night, especially, when the lot out side has to hold a good many whom the "old brick church" fails to accommodate. I preached a week in the same old building. It is a "run-on" establishment, formerly sufficing for the four denominations, who occupied it alternately. But the "Christians" built, then the Presbyterians followed, and now the Methodists and Baptists alone occupy the old brick. Brother Peoples, of Lancaster, courteously made way for us last Sunday, for which we here thank him kindly. And my old friend, Crow, of Richmond, contributed his part to the general harmony by not opening his pretty rival establishment, over the way; for which we also tender very hearty thanks. So we had it all our own way, and conscientiously did as little harm and as much good as we knew how on that starry Sabbath, when a "great multitude" of all sorts waited on our simple ministry of "Love and Nothing Else."

We are having cool nights and hot days, which will breed sickness, I fear, among those who neither trust the LORD nor take care of themselves. But our God has given this sweet promise to those who abide under "the shadow of His wings." "Thou shalt not be afraid for the pestilence that walketh in darkness, nor the destruction that wasteth at noonday." Oh, that all would put their trust in Him!

As far as we can see, our programme is to run down to Stanford Monday evening, spend the night at Pink Cottage, on to Somerset Tuesday, beginning there that night. Will be preaching in Richmond this week. How providentially he was halted there just when he was! Otherwise he would have been in the midst of Wednesday's awful work of blood in Morehead. Work, steady and continuous, is opening up to him. He has engagements already months ahead. Praise the LORD!

Inter in Jesus. GEO. O. BARNES.

The democratic tide which has been sweeping the State of Kentucky for the past quarter of a century has a very great deal of driftwood that was floating around here on the political waves that will now leave it. It never was about ocean timber, and was never at home on the democratic tide. There is much of it that will never be at home in any party, in fact, it is that ingratiable and life with all new currents. We want to warn democrats, especially young democrats, to beware of the teaching of political weather-cocks. When you find a man who has been voting with the democrats, and claiming to be a democrat, going off into the labor or prohibition party, inquire into his antecedents and you will find that he is some of the driftwood that has been drifting with the tide and perhaps rotten at that. Don't be deceived by them, but follow where the democratic flag flies. (West Liberty Gem.)

Mr. St. Elias is the highest mountain in North America. It is 17,000 feet high. But Mount Everest, in the Himalayas, is the highest in America. It reaches 21,000 feet above the sea level. The longest bridge in the world is in China. It is a railway bridge 70 feet wide and 70 feet high. There are 800 arches with pillars 75 feet apart, each one of which bears a pedestal on which is the figure of a lion 21 feet long and made out of one solid block of marble.

The process for making beautiful colored photographs has recently been perfected by an English photographer. A negative of the subject is taken on a sensitized plate by electric light. From the negative a positive is produced on a chemically-treated basis by the aid of a solar camera and a spectroscopic arrangement. The image is produced in colors without the aid of hand work or brush.

When Mary was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

THE LANCASTER CLUB HOP.

The hop given by the Lancaster Club Friday night was elegant and enjoyable in every respect. The club was untiring in its attention to its guests and left nothing undone that would add to their pleasure. As the Appellate Court is now constituted there is no remedy for its slow-moving action in sight. If the people should conclude to elect younger and more vigorous men there would probably be an improvement.—[Covington Commonwealth]

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

A woman named Wallen was killed by lightning in the eastern part of this county Tuesday.

The little 2-year-old son of C. N. Scott, a resident of this county, was run over by himself Saturday, badly scalding his feet and legs.

Prof. J. H. Claggett is conducting a normal school at Laurel Seminary for the benefit of teachers. The session will last four weeks and should be largely attended.

Gen. P. W. Hardin and Major G. M. Adams will address the citizens of Laurel county at the court-house on Monday July 11, 1887. Everybody should come and feast their souls on a flow of pure democratic eloquence.

Judge Granville Pearl, whose sudden death was announced in your last issue, was a man beloved by all who knew him; a man of whose extraordinary intellect the mountain people were justly proud. He was buried with Masonic honors in the grave yard on the hill, just west of town.

To-day, 27th, our prohibition brethren met here to nominate a candidate for the Senate to make the race against Mr. Paul. They seem in deadly earnest and many of them really think they can elect their man. Judge Paul is said to be unpopular in his own party, but it's a powerful cold day when a republican goes back on the nominee of his party, whiskey or no whiskey.

Charming little Miss Nellie Hackney is with her sister, Mrs. B. G. Ward, at Paint Lick. Messrs. Dinkley of the Danville Tribune, and Campbell, of the Louisville Republican, were here at the speaking Friday, in the interest of their respective papers. Miss Helen Foster and Mrs. Partman are sick. Miss Emma Scher is visiting in Ohio. John Pearl, who was called home by telegram to attend the funeral of his father, Judge G. Pearl, has returned to his duties as mail agent on the Cincinnati Southern. Dr. Dickerson, of Bourbonville, was in the city Tuesday. Dr. Thomas, of Columbia, has been here for several days extracting teeth without pain to the patient.

One John Wells was arrested here on Tuesday last by Deputy Jailer G. P. Johnson because of his suspicious movements. He had sold a mule to Mr. M. Jackson for about one-half its value. Mr. Jackson stipulating that he should not pay for the "critter" until it was ascertained to be all right. This the fellow at first agreed to, but growing restless he started to leave the town, when the arrest was made. Once in the clutches of the law the rogue acknowledged to having stolen the mule from Steve Allen, in Clay county. This statement proved true and both the mule and the man were taken back there.

Col. W. O. Bradley fired the public heat here Friday (in a horn). A good crowd promptly responded to the music of Col. Bradley's band and the Garrard county statesman made democratic for us for about an hour and a half. He has bashed his old cut-and-dried misstatements as to Kentucky finances and charged the democratic party with every conceivable crime, from the taking of human life to "pilfering about without any visible means of subsistence."

He charged the Knott with writing Backer's speech for him and undertook to convince our people of the truthfulness of the assertion by giving Col. J. W. Jones as authority for the statement. Col. Jones never said such a thing in his life and that Col. Bradley had no authority for so stating. "This runs the world away," but in any event everybody knows that Bradley made similar charges before he came here. He fought the war over from the firing of the first gun at Fort Sumpter to the surrender of Lee at Appomattox and is still fighting; he paid his respects to Grover Cleveland and the rebel flag incident, and warned a deluded people that unless they ceased to vote the democratic ticket this country would again be reeking with blood from one end to the other in less than no time, and even his valor could not save it again! The enthusiastic "boys in blue" who fought with the colonel during the "war" and who occupied seats as near the speaker as possible, cheered him to the echo every time the word general incidentally worked its way into the discourse. Federal aid was vigorously appealed to and from beginning to end the speech was a masterpiece of special pleading for votes (which heaven knows he needs badly enough). Many are of the opinion the effort fell far below Mr. Bradley's standard, and while everyone who knows him has the highest regard for him personally, none who know him have the remotest confidence in his political utterances. Still he will get the republican vote, but that is all, although more incensed for him; but when you hear anyone say he will get even one Union democrat, to which class he appealed most pathetically, you can just say he won't do any such thing.

Drunkenness or the Liqueur Habit Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it; it is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they just drinking of their own free will. IF NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the Specific it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For full particulars, address GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race st., Cincinnati, O.

TURNER, the miserable brute who is to die at the end of a rope in Louisville next Friday for the murder of Jennie Bowman, is having his fun all the same even if it is in sight of the gallows. For fear that he might cheat the law by suicide the jailer had placed a guard over him day and night and had ordered that none but his spiritual advisers be permitted in his cell. Turner raved and snorted at the curtailment of his liberty but finally quieted down and proceeded to get even with his keepers. Scrapping a little whitewash from the walls of his narrow quarters he emptied it into a vial and getting where the guard could see the performance he deliberately swallowed the poison. Soon he began to wall his eyes and moan and the frightened guard sounded the alarm that Turner had taken poison. A doctor with a stomach pump was dispatched for who went at once to the cell to find the condemned man fairly convulsed with laughter over the success of his joke. It was a grave subject and a grave time for its use, but as Nero could fiddle while Rome burned, we can't blame Turner for having a little fun even if it is done under the shadow of the gallows.

COL BRADLEY told his audience here that he had scared the democratic party into making the grandest effort of its life, even though it endeavored to maintain its ascendancy by an "appeal to men's bellies instead of their brains" as it was doing in its barbecues. The Colonel is disposed to be egotistical. It would take a heavier weight than he and a speech better than the one he has learned by heart to scare anybody. The republican ticket would get fully as many votes if he had staid at home and sowed wild and said nothing.

THE Secretary of State, Hon. Jim McKenzie, has succeeded in organizing a Mutual Protective Society in Rowan, the members of it pledging themselves to obey the laws and require all others in that section to do so. No guilty man is to escape, but a fair trial and protection from violence is guaranteed. With all of the leaders of the lawlessness in their graves or in exile, we can see no reason that Rowan should not become a model of peace and law-abiding.

THE United States Court having given judgment against the county of Taylor for the interest on $450,000, the amount of its railroad debt, Marshall Gross went to Campbellville to arrange for its collection, but found the people so opposed to it that he retired and gave them 15 days to reflect over the matter. Gross says he is bound to collect the money and will do it if he has to have the United States troops called out.

CRAIG TOLLIVER is still dead. We make this announcement to assure our readers who have more than once rejoiced too soon at reports of his death. The King of Rowan is done for this time sure and peace spreads her mantle over his late turbulent dominion. All honor to Sheriff Hogg and his daring posse for ridding the State of his baleful presence.

GEN. JAMES SPEED, attorney general under Lincoln, and a lawyer and statesman of much note, died at his home near Louisville, Saturday, aged 74. His health had been failing for some time. On the same day, at Rochester, New York, Freeman Clark, controller of the currency under the same president, passed away, aged 73.

THE Third Internal Revenue District of New York is the only one now held by a republican collector in the whole United States. Mr. Cleveland should fire him at once and make the thing unanimous. To the victors belong all the spoils and they should not be kept from their enjoyment.

THE Knights of Honor in Louisville, New Albany and Jeffersonville will celebrate the 14th anniversary of the order at Central Park, Louisville, June 30th. There will be an illuminated street parade, jubilee and speeches. Mr. Thomas D. Osborne has our thanks for an invitation.

THE act of the Legislature to take a vote on the question of calling a constitutional convention appears on our fourth page. The method is different from that previously observed and voters would do well to peruse the law carefully.

THE labor nominee for governor, Farmer Cardin, of Crittenden, declines the empty honor with thanks. This makes two of the ticket to decline and if it keeps on the alleged party will have to meet and do its work over again.

AND now comes Granddaddy Munnell, of the Louisville Democrat, and says we are to stop calling him "Billy O'Bradley." All right, old what-you-may-call-it, just as you say, but dog-on-it, ain't a fellow to have no fun at all?

—In Louisville Sunday 1,538 people visited the murderer, Turner, in jail.

THE Democratic State Central Committee has issued a pamphlet entitled "Facts for the People," which is a very complete refutation of Bradley's fallacies in regard to State affairs. Being compiled from the official records, to which Bradley has as much access as anybody, the inference is plain that the warrior from Garrard has not sought facts for his arguments, but relies on his imagination and his reckless use of the truth to mislead those unacquainted with the real state of affairs. The document though small is very comprehensive and is said to have been prepared by Gov. Knott and Auditor Hewitt. It should be in the hands of every voter in the State.

THE story goes that when Craig Tolliver saw that he must die, he pulled off his boots, remarking, "They have always said that I'd die with my boots on, but I'll be damned if I do," and that he was in his sock feet when he fell, attempting to get through the lines of the determined press. Well, if that was any comfort to his dying moments the people will not begrudge it. What they wanted was to be rid of him, boots or no boots, and they are, praise to God and thanks to Sheriff Hogg!

A. T. WOOD, of Mt. Sterling, has accepted the nomination by the Republican Executive Committee for attorney general in the place of Feland, declined. He will shy his little castor into the ring, but will hardly tackle Watt Hardin. That is, he will not, if he is smart enough to lead a goose to water.

—Circuit Judge W. E. Russell, of Marion county, decided last week that where the United States government has granted a retailer a license to sell liquors, a subsequent voting of prohibition under the local option law will not deprive the retailer of the privilege of selling during the period for which the United States license had been granted. GARRARD COUNTY DEPARTMENT.

Lancaster.

—Married on June 22, at Newport, Mr. Robert H. Fox, of this county, to Mrs. H. C. Hamilton, of Lancaster.

—We move that the city fathers have the fence around Central Park painted or whitewashed one. It looks opprobrious.

—A special term of the Garrard circuit court will be held July 6th at Lancaster for the trial of equity and criminal cases.

—Unless we have rain the hemp crop, will be seriously injured. Gardens are suffering for rain. The wheat crop is generally harvested.

—Uncle Jack Burnside, of the Paint Lick neighborhood, was in town yesterday (Monday) for the first time since last October. His health is much improved.

—E. H. Walker, Esq., shipped a carload of tobacco last week, for which he realized 10 cents per pound. There will be no tobacco raised in Garrard county this year.

—L. F. Hubble is on the sick list. Capt. T. A. Elkin has not been in town for several days. He is reported to be riding a binder. Eld. G. W. Yancy is on a business trip to Williamsburg.

—The hop Tuesday night was a success in every way. There were people present from Richmond, Nicholasville, Louisville, Danville and Sanford. The music was furnished by Wolfe & Trosch's band and excellent; the ladies all looked well, the gentlemen manly and they danced all night till broad daylight.

—The following speakers will be present at the grand district barbecue to be held in the woodlands of Capt. T. A. Elkin and A. C. Robinson near Gilberts Creek station on July 14: Hons J. A. McKenzie, J. G. Carlisle, J. B. Beck, Jo Blackburn, Dan Voohees, J. W. Bryan, Watt Hardin, W. C. P. Breckenridge, John Young Brown, W. C. Owens, Henry Watterson and J. B. McCrery.

—Squire L. R. Schooler, of this county, died on Thursday evening at home. He was Public Administrator of Garrard county at the time of his demise and was for many years magistrate for district No. 1. He was a good citizen and in all recent circumstances. His wife and three children survive him. His remains were laid to rest in the Lancaster cemetery on Friday evening.

WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY COUNTY.

—Court adjourned Saturday at 10 A. M., after a session of three weeks.

—Dr. A. Gatliff, G. N. Sprout, S. Stanfill, J. P. Mahan, M. L. Davis and W. G. McClancy went to London yesterday to attend the prohibition Senatorial convention.

—L. O. Sullivan, sheriff, and posse, left this morning for Frankfort with the following prisoners. William Wilson, charged with rape, sentenced for life; William Broughton, murder, five years; Joseph Harris, colored, burglary, two years; John Wilson, burglary, two cases, sentenced in first one year and in second two years, making three years in all; Robert Johnson, for bigamy, three years.

—W. O. Bradley spoke to a house crowded with republicans Saturday, who seemed to be impressed with his speech and from what I could learn (not being present) it was not made up of blackguardism, as was his last speech he made in our town. Congressman Hook, of Tennessee, was present and made a few remarks, in which he said he "supposed there were some few democrats here, that he had never yet heard or read of the place where there were no democrats, except in heaven; said he never heard of a democrat in heaven." Guess he never read much about heaven, anyway, as he don't seem to know much about it.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Joshua Boring, Jr., is down with inflammatory rheumatism.

—All of the public schools of the county have employed teachers.

—The blackberry crop is immense and pie eaters are correspondingly happy.

—I have just returned from the city with a nice line of cool, summer clothing C. W. King.

—A freight train cut off the horns of Judge Colyer's cow the other day without doing further damage.

—D. P. Bethuram, the distiller, will be tried July 21 on a charge of retailing liquor, contrary to the prohibition laws.

—James Taylor of Seaford Cone, who was insane a short time since, is reported to be fully recovered and is attending to business.

—J. W. Mullins has started his brick kiln and most of the idle boys are at work in the yard, including the captain of the base-ball nine.

—Johnny Green, the little negro who had his feet so badly frozen a couple of winters since, necessitating amputation, died at the poor-house one day last week.

—To those who are unacquainted with the location of the postoffice we would say it can be found opposite the court-house. Mail matter should be left there instead of carrying it to the depot.

—W. H. Albright, at Round Stone, has started his distillery. Those having a prejudice regarding the politics of the liquor they use can choose between Albright and Bethuram, democrat and republican respectively. The prohibitionists have not made a run at their brewery yet.

—Dr. Davis, our present Superintendent of Schools, a nice, clever gentleman, a republican, is under the impression that he has the nomination and re-election in his vest pocket. Probably when the votes are counted the Dr. will not find that vest pocket over stuffed with ballots. The democrats will give him a warmer blue than he anticipates.

—Miss Cleo Williams is visiting Lab Orchard and Lexington. Willis Adams and family are yet in Garrard. Wiley Mullins took a flying trip to London Saturday. It is said that he and Mr. Minny will organize a lodge of Knights of Labor here. Major William Byars, an old Texas friend of the writer, is here in that much maligned calling—the lightning rod business.

—At 2 o'clock Friday night the ringing of bells and firing of guns aroused our citizens from their slumbers to find the large barn and stable of H. C. Gentry in flames. The dwelling-house, which was but a short distance from it, was saved. The barn was stored with hay and corn. No insurance. It is supposed that the fire was incendiary or accidental by sleeping tramps.

—We are told by our republican friends that Mr. Ewell, of Laurel, will be present to day, Monday, to reply to the speeches of Hon. James A. McKenzie and G. Matt Adams. Good and well enough. Friend Ewell may wish before these gentlemen are through with him he had remained in the fastnesses of his native heath instead of venturing out where he is liable to be literally "chawed up" with solid argumentative democracy.

—Mr. G. P. Ramsey meeting with some objection when he asked the young lady's father concluded that an elopement was in order. Last Wednesday, in company with his intended, Miss Jennie Coffey, he attended the commencement at Berea and took the evening south bound train for Lexington, made connection with the L. & N., and travelled to Jellico, Tenn., where they were married returning here Thursday to receive congratulations from their numerous friends.

—Miss Ida Adams accompanied by Mrs. Chas. Turner returned from Louisville Sunday. Smith Prewitt has gone South with a sleight-of-hand show. Robt. D. Cook, the legal light of Reedville, was here Friday. B. H. Joplin is now a tonsorial artist. J. W. Nesbitt, of our place, the largest stove dealer in the mountains, and the best judge of a stove, is shipping a large number of car-loads direct to Liverpool via Boston.

—W. O. Bradley spoke here Thursday last to a good crowd of republicans and a sprinkling of democrats. He used almost the same arguments as in his speeches at other places, charging the democrats with mismanagement of State affairs and our country would go to the dem-nition how-ows if he was not made governor of this great and glorious old Commonwealth. If the State depends on being saved by his being made governor then the bow-ows will get her by a large majority.

—We seem to be imminent between the Lawells and Adams on Brush Creek, over the intimacy that has existed between one of the women and a man of the different families. No blood has yet been spilt, but both parties are prepared for it. One of the Adams was called up the road a short distance from his house, being told that a woman had sent for him. After going a few hundred yards some one attempted to shoot him from the bushes, but the gun snapped and failed to fire. Adams ran back and armed himself, but thought it best not to return to the spot.

—MT. SALEM.—"Bud" Dunn is very seriously ill, caused, it is said, by being over-come with heat while at work. Mrs. Balle B. Daugherty is also sick with flux. H. H. McAninch has just recovered from the flux. This disease appears to be prevailing in some localities. Emmett McCormack has just returned from Cincinnati where he has been attending to the sale of his lambs. He reports a glutted market. E. T.

NIGHT KILLED.—Freight train No. 31 ran over a negro lying on the track a mile beyond Lebanon yesterday morning and literally scattered his body to the four winds. The name was Frank White and he had been around Lebanon drunk the day before.

UNDER the new revenue law 6 per cent. is added to all taxes not paid by September. It is not optional with the sheriff, but he is forced to collect the additional amount, which goes directly to the State. Read Sheriff Newland's notice in this paper and pay your taxes at once.

WHILE Judge Hargis was at Corbin the other day a deputy sheriff arrested a man and summoned the late Chief Justice to help him tie him. He responded with alacrity, the man was tied and the officer went on his way without knowing who his distinguished assistant was.

THE Courier Journal is attempting the thankless task of trying to teach Bill Bradley manners and suggests that a nominee for the high office of governor should at least be a gentleman. The first thing that paper knows Bradley will be down and clean the whole state out. He is a fighter from away back and a bad man from Ellet creek.

LET every wavering, weak-kneed democrat, who thinks of throwing his vote away on prohibition or some other impossible ticket, go to the big barbecue in Elkin's woods on the 14th of July, regale himself with the good things that will be spread before him and listen to democratic doctrine pure and simple from the best speakers in the State.

THE $2,000 which will be drawn on the death of Mr. A. Miller will make $14,000 that has been paid out here by the Knights of Honor. Mr. Miller was a member nine years and seven months and in that time paid out $194.70 in assessments, which with the lodge dues makes a total of $255.10 that he paid, for which his widow will receive $2,000. This is about the cheapest insurance a man can carry.

If you never have taken a trip over that wonderfully picturesque and excellently equipped road, the Chesapeake and Ohio, you should certainly avail yourself of the excursion rates of July 11th. From here and all other points on the Kentucky Central the fare will be but $13 for the round trip and there is no journey on which you can see more and enjoy yourself greater than from here to Old Point Comfort on the seashore. Go by all means. Twenty-five dollars will cover everything and allow three days at the Hygeia. James B. Jones, agent, was here distributing printed matter relative thereto yesterday.

DEATHS.

—Prof. Paxton arrived with the corpse of his baby Friday night, and after a short funeral service at the College by Rev. A. S. McNeill it was laid beside its mother in Buffalo Spring Cemetery Saturday morning.

—Mr. Andrew Miller, who came to this county from Canton Argon, Switzerland, 20 years ago, died suddenly Saturday night of heart disease, aged 55 years. He was for 18 years toll gate keeper at the double gate on the Hustonville pike, combining that business with his trade of shoemaker. Strictly honest and careful of the interests of the companies he worked for, he was held in high esteem by the officers as well as by the citizens generally. He had accumulated some property which with the insurance that he will get on his life in the Knights of Honor will leave his widow in comfortable circumstances. Mr. Miller was of great assistance to the Swiss settlers here, acting as their interpreter, seeing that they were not swindled by designing men and helping them in various ways without charge. The remains were interred by the Knights of Honor in Buffalo cemetery yesterday.

—The tobacco warehouses of Brannin, Brand and Glover, Mills, Parrish & Son, Sawyer, Wallace & Co., Louisville, were destroyed by fire Sunday morning. Between 3,000 and 4,000 hogheads of tobacco were consumed and the loss is figured at $350,000.

—The address of welcome by Mr. R. G. Evans to the Baptist association was an elegant composition and was delivered in faultless style.

—Rev. P. T. Hale, of the Baptist church, on Sunday announced that he would on Friday next leave for New York, whence he would in a few days sail for Europe, to be absent several months. He goes abroad on account of his health.

—P. Mullaney, toll gate keeper on Danville & Hustonville pike, reports very bad behavior on the part of two young men, accompanied by two young women, Sunday evening. They used profane and indecent language in the presence of his family, tried to raise a row over the toll money, drew a pistol on him, etc. and so on.

—On Saturday morning a young negro man got off the north bound train which passes here at 5:40 A. M. and in making his way to the house of a friend who lives in the south east part of town, passed through the alley between the D. & D. Institute and the property of Morris Yeiser. Just as he entered the alley he met two negro men, one of them, with a scar on his face, who, with pistols pointed in his face, compelled him to give up what money he had amounting to $6.50. They then left him and ran in a westerly direction and have not yet been apprehended.

—The general association of the Baptist church, which has been in session here for several days, will adjourn this (Monday) evening. The subject of the removal of the College from Georgetown to some other point was discussed on Saturday when it was decided to leave the whole matter in the hands of the College trustees. This, it is thought, means that it will remain at Georgetown for the present.

—Linney & Perry's confectionery and restaurant on 31 street was entered by robbers Friday night by climbing to the 21 story window with the aid of a wooden awning attached to the adjoining building. The robber then cut a piece from a window with a diamond and putting his hand in turned the ash lock, raised the window and went in. Going down stairs he helped himself to a lot of pocket knives, some cigars, some cake and candies. If anything else was taken it was not missed. The robber then left the way he came when he might have unbolted a door on the first floor and gone out that way. No arrests.

—On Friday morning a woman about 40 years old accompanied by a little child about three years old, got off the south-bound train on the Cincinnati Southern and took her seat in the waiting-room. She remained there several hours when it was noticed that she was deranged. She could give no account of herself and stayed in the waiting-room until Saturday morning, people in the vicinity of the depot supplying her and the child with food. On Saturday morning she was brought to the courthouse, when she said she was a Catholic and that she was the wife of Michael McCarty, who lived somewhere near Danville. Father Brady, of the Catholic church, called and at once recognized her as the wife of McCarty, who last year lived near Bishop, but who is now employed on the Louisville Southern near Salves. It appeared also that she had been visiting friends near Booneville, Missouri, and that she had become crazy on her way home. She has been taken to the boarding-house of Mrs. F. X. where she will be cared for until her husband can be communicated with.

CRAB ORCHARD, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—Last week, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. R. B. Ward, Mr. F. L. Clifford and Mrs. Ellen Ward were united in marriage. The groom is a Catholic and the ceremony was performed by two priests. The bride was very becomingly attired in a handsome gray traveling dress with bonnet to match. The wedding was a very quiet one and only relatives and a few intimate friends were present. After the ceremony a sumptuous feast was spread and was partaken of by all with a zest that fully proved its excellence. The happy couple left on the noon train for a week's stay in Louisville, after which they will return to Livingston, the home of the groom. The bride received a number of handsome presents which are both useful and ornamental. We sincerely regret to lose Miss Ellen from our bouquet of noble girls but are consoled to know that she has fallen in safe hands. A host of warm friends join me in wishing that your lives may be long and useful and crowned with prosperity and happiness. M. E.

General Buckner addressed himself to the task of making clear, even to the mind unaccustomed to dealing with figures, the history since the war of revenue, taxation and debt of Kentucky. He put into an attractive form a mass of information which would overwhelm an "orator" of the calibre of Mr. Bradley. It is the address of one familiar with affairs; it comes from one who shows himself the man Kentucky needs for governor the next four years. There is no charge made openly or hinted at by Mr. Bradley which Gen. Buckner does not controvert. The sinking fund has not been squandered; it has been applied to the payment of the debt. The debt has not increased; it has been almost entirely blotted out. Taxation has not been made oppressive; it has simply been made equal. The schools have not been neglected; they have been cherished. Unless offices have not been created, but offices whose services are unquestionable have been established. Kentucky has not been lagging behind; she has been pushing forward. These denials of the assertions of Mr. Bradley are supported by citations from documents as accessible to Mr. Bradley as to Gen. Buckner, and though the democratic nominee has no harsh words for his republican opponent, the refutation of his excited denunciations of the State and its rulers is so conclusive as to carry with it the severest condemnation. Only those who are willing for a temporary party advantage to see their State maligned and misrepresented and put before the public in a position discreditable to her intelligence and to her manhood, can, after a comparison of Gen. Buckner's address with the address of Mr. Bradley, vote for the republican nominee. — [Courier-Journal.]

MAMIE'S TELEGRAM.—A Hartford man, whose wife was going abroad, asked her to telegraph him a word or two letting him know of her safe arrival in New York. In a few hours he received the following message, "collect."

"Dear George—Arrived here safely at 15 minutes past 6. The train was due at 6, but we were delayed 15 minutes while en route. Had a perfectly lovely trip. Don't worry about me, I'll get along all right. And take good care of yourself. Be careful about taking cold this damp weather. Remember that you are to keep on your flannels until the 15th of June. Be sure and have the house opened and aired as often as once a week. Remember what I told you about your socks and shirts. Don't forget to keep the basement door locked. Write every day. I'm sure I'll have a lovely time. So good in you to let me go. You must come over after me in August."

"Forever and ever and ever yours,"

MAMIE.

An hour later Mamie was pained to receive the following reply to her "word or two":

"Don't cable anything from Liverpool. I'm a ruined man if you do. GEORGE."

The other night a novel game was played on Conductor Harris of the down east Georgia railroad train. When the train stopped at Union Point Captain Harris noticed two negro women get aboard, one of them dressed in a loose Mother Hubbard. When he went through the car he failed to find one of the women, and upon questioning the negro she said that somebody had snatched the other girl's ticket away and she had got off. The captain did not suspect anything wrong, but when the train reached Barrett the missing woman came from under the Mother Hubbard of her companion and got off unnoticed by the conductor, but to the amusement of the other passengers who saw her when she made good her exit from under the loose made dress. — [Savannah News.]

SPIRITUALISM DECLARED A FRAUD.—In 1884 Henry Seybert, a believer in spiritualism, died. He bequeathed $50,000 to the University of Pennsylvania to found a chair of philosophy on condition that a commission be appointed to investigate spiritualism. The commission was appointed and have been investigating the sciences of all the prominent spiritualists of the world for the past three years; and after a careful and most rigid investigation the commission now declare that not one of the spiritualists here succeeded in doing anything remarkable without the practice of fraud, and that trickery and legerdemain were practiced in all their arts, and spiritualism is denounced by the commission as a melancholy spectacle of gross fraud.

A Southern Journal is responsible for the statement that some gentlemen, representing an Eastern type foundry, have been looking over the South with a view to establishing a type foundry, and have decided that Atlanta, Georgia, is the most desirable spot to locate, on account of its being so near a central point between the North and South. It is proposed to establish a foundry that will require a capital of $60,000 and which will give employment to 100 men and a large number of boys and girls. One half the capital is to be furnished by Eastern capitalists.

Why a prominent druggist there killed himself by taking a drink of acetone in mistake for some whiskey?" "Well, he ought to have known better than to keep drugs in his stock. They are dangerous things." — [Omaha World.]

An account was recently given in a London paper of a painful experience of Lord Dufferin and his suite with a swarm of bees, while at Delra Room. The insects fiercely attacked the party and drove them to the shelter of a neighboring church while their horses were prostrated by the onslaught.

The preservative qualities of sea water was shown in the case of the recovery of relics of vessels sunk 184 years since in the harbor of Vigo, Spain. Humus is grown in Southern Russia close to grape vines to protect them against phylloxera. The insects are attracted by the odor of the humus, the roots of which prove poisonous to them. A novel and happy idea was embodied in the present to a departing friend by a lady of a bag full of missives of various natures, from different sources, to be read upon the journey after her departure. Passing events had waned. From the sweet nothings of young girl friends to the grave and interesting letters of professors, the bag comprised far more than material for the willing away of busy tedious hours was thus afforded.

Isosynonyx of the finding of a most human body is recovered from the neighborhood of Windsor, Ill. The fact was made by a farmer while tilling the soil. The body was in a state somewhat resembling soapstone, and was accompanied by a strong odor of copperas. The body was of diminutive stature, and was evidently that of a strong, fleshy person, showing also, signs of literacy. The supposition is that the body is that of an ancient race of mound builders.

G. wells are becoming the order of the day. Not only is Indiana becoming honey-combed by them, but New York is also developing an eruptive disposition. An artesian well in the northern part of the State recently developed into a natural gas reservoir which, when tapped, threw up a flame to the height of seventeen feet. This brilliant light at night led the farmers in the surrounding country to drive in to see what they supposed was a huge conflagration.

AS ingenious and simple method of marking ground for planting is to use a wheelbarrow as a marker. Nail a cross-piece against the front bar to project on both sides of the barrow. From this, at such a distance from the center on each side as you want the rows apart, attach a piece of chain to drag on the ground. Then pass back and forth across the patch to be marked, being guided by the last mark made. The idea of using the wheelbarrow is that there is little chance of its leaving sideways, and straight rows may be easily made.

The reluctance of farmers to have recourse to selling is due to several causes. One of them is the difficulty of having a continuous succession of green crops just when they are needed. Calculation to secure this may fail. The seedling may be too early or too late, while the seasons may be unfavorable. Another cause is the labor required to prepare and seed down a crop, as well as to haul the green food from the fields. It is also urged that green corn or beans of no value in feeding the butter yield while they are in blossom. The question will vary, however, with the manner of use of the value of the manure which is obtained by the adoption of selling—effect the above disadvantages.

The English law makes it compulsory upon parents to send their children to school. Recently a man named J. H. was arrested in Liverpool on the charge of not having paid the sum of $5.25 school dues for his two children. He was sentenced to fourteen days' imprisonment for this offense, and on a few days died of a complication of hepatitis and brain disease. The coroner's inquest showed that he was a sober, respectable man, who had been out of employment for some time and was in the direst poverty, every thing he had having been pawned to purchase food. At the time of his arrest he was almost naked, sick and hungry. But the man had to die before the circumstances of his case could receive official notice.

In reference to the "consumption plant," a writer in a medical paper says: The natural history of the bacillus is very interesting. It never grows spontaneously outside of an animal body. It requires a temperature between 55 degrees and 108 degrees Fahrenheit in order to develop it. It must remain fully ten days in a moist situation, at the temperature above stated, before it shows any tendency to increase or even fix itself in its proper soil. The heat of boiling water destroys the plant and its seeds (spores), but cold does not kill them. From a consideration of these facts it may easily be seen how it is possible for isolated populations to escape the ravages of this disease for generations, and the region thus requires a reputation as a proper resort for such individuals, and the further fact that after convalescence have invaded it for a few seasons, the natives inhabitants develop the infection from which their ancestors were free. The plant has been introduced and has become a pest to its growth, that is, the climate has not changed, as is the case with temperature, moisture, etc., and so on.

AN ACT for taking the sense of the good people of this Commonwealth as to the necessity and expediency of calling a Convention to amend the Constitution, and to provide for ascertaining the number of citizens entitled to vote for Representative within this State.

WUKKAS, Experience has pointed out the necessity of amending the Constitution and the expediency of calling a convention for that purpose, therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

1. That at the next general election for Representatives to the General Assembly, it shall be the duty of the several sheriffs and other officers of election to open a poll for and make a return to the Secretary of State, for the time being, of the names of all citizens entitled to vote for Representatives who have voted at the said election for calling a convention for the purpose of re-adopting, amending or changing the Constitution.

2. That any sheriff or other returning officer failing to perform the duty imposed by first section of this act shall be subject to a fine of six hundred dollars ($600), to be recovered by indictment of the grand jury in any court having jurisdiction thereof, and shall, upon conviction of such failure, be removed from office by the court in which such conviction is had.

3. That for the purpose of ascertaining the number of citizens entitled to vote for Representatives within this State in the year 1887, there shall be furnished, as hereinafter provided, to the sheriffs and other officers of the election in August, 1887, a registration book, in which the officers of the election shall record the names of all citizens entitled to vote for Representatives within this State at the said election. The officers of the election shall also cause officers of registration, and shall have said registration books open for the record of said names between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 7 o'clock P. M. on the day of the August 1887, election at all the voting places in this Commonwealth. And it shall be the duty of all citizens of this Commonwealth who are entitled to vote for Representatives, on the day of the next general election in August, 1887, to go before the sheriff and other returning officers and cause their names to be recorded in the registration book in the voting precinct in which they are severally entitled to vote, and cause themselves to be registered on the poll-books as qualified voters of this Commonwealth, and the names of all citizens living in the district known to said officers to be entitled to vote for Representatives, or made known to them by evidence on that day, shall be registered as not voting. And in the year 1887, no other officer shall be authorized to make any list or return of the qualified voters of this Commonwealth, nor shall any return therefrom except the registration books and certificates provided for by this act be made, and all laws requiring list or returns of such qualified voters are hereby repealed, so far as the year 1887 is embraced therein. The total number of votes registered shall be the true number of citizens entitled to vote for Representatives within this State for the purpose of ascertaining whether a majority of all the citizens of this State, as entitled to vote for Representatives, are in favor of a convention for the purpose of re-adopting, amending or changing the Constitution.

4. The said registration books shall be appropriately rated and headed, so that they may, and it is hereby enacted that the same shall, be the poll-books for recording the votes for and against the calling of the constitutional convention, and for ascertaining the number of citizens entitled to vote for Representatives within this State. It shall be the duty of the said officers of election to provide for every voter the means for recording his vote for calling a constitutional convention or not. If such voter shall answer in the affirmative, his name shall be recorded as voting for said convention, and if such voter makes no answer, his name shall be recorded as voting against said convention, and if such voter makes no answer, his name shall be recorded as voting against said convention. And it shall be the duty of the officers holding the election at each voting place in the State to certify the total number of voters registered, and the number voting for calling a constitutional convention, and to make out a duplicate certificate showing said facts. The registration book shall be returned immediately after the election of the Commonwealth, by mail, to the Secretary of State at Frankfort, Kentucky, and the duplicate certificate attached to the poll-book for the election of State officers, and return therewith as now directed by law.

5. The Secretary of State in office at the convening of the General Assembly next after the election in August, 1887, shall, immediately upon the organization of same, transmit to each House a statement, prepared by him from the said registration and poll-books, showing how many votes were at the said election cast in favor of said convention, and the total number of voters registered, whether voting for or against, or not at all. The report shall be made up by counties. He shall retain the registration books for the use of examination and inspection of the next General Assembly.

6. It shall be the duty of the officers whose duty it is by law to compare and certify the votes for State officers, to make out from the certificates returned with the State election poll-books as above provided, and at the time they certify the votes for State officers, a certificate by voting places, showing the total number of votes registered, and the number voting for calling a constitutional convention, and to send the certificate to the Secretary of State, and if the registration book provided for a voter shall, as in any voting place, be lost, destroyed or not returned, then the Secretary of State, in making the report to the General Assembly, shall use the information in the original certificate as to any such district or precinct, and he shall, moreover, use the certificate to show that he has lost, and the registration book for each voting place in each county named in said certificate.

7. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of State, after adjournment of this General Assembly, to make out the form of a registration book and certificates to be made and used as herein provided, and to furnish the same to the Public Printer forthwith, and it shall be the duty of said Public Printer to make up and bind in a separate form each registration book with a certificate therefrom for each voting place in the State; also the duplicate certificate and the several certificates, and send the same to the several sheriffs, who shall see that they are delivered and used at the various voting places as herein required.

8. That any officer failing to do or perform any of the duties enjoined upon him by the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh sections of this act, shall be subject to a fine of five hundred dollars ($500), to be recovered by indictment of any grand jury in any court having jurisdiction thereof, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be removed from office by the court in which said conviction is had.

9. That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of State to have this act advertised in one weekly newspaper in each county of this Commonwealth, and in one of the daily papers of the city of Louisville for thirty days immediately preceding the election, and in every county said Secretary shall cause to be posted at the court-house door a copy of this act, printed in hand-bill form, for at least two consecutive weeks before such election.

10. It shall be the duty of the Public Printer to print ten thousand copies of this act upon a separate sheet of paper and deliver them to the Secretary of State, who shall forward the same to the county clerks of the various counties in this State in such numbers as to provide at least two copies thereof for each voting precinct; said clerks shall file the same with the sheriff or other of-icers acting in the place thereof; and it shall be the duty of such sheriff or other officer to post one copy of said act at each voting place, and another copy at some other suitable public place in said precinct four weeks prior to the election. Any officer failing to discharge the duties prescribed in this section of this act shall be fined for each and every failure twenty dollars, to be recovered in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

11. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved January 18, 1886.
